Thank You!
Dear Friends,

In 2020, in the midst of the coronavirus pandemic, we were on the rise. To do that, we called on the world to end the most extreme forms of animal suffering and killing, and the results were monumental. We are now inspired to make 2021 an even greater year of victories for animals.

Educating, Persuading, Liberating

Groundbreaking Victories for Animals

PETA and our international affiliates persuaded Dean Ryan, Belvoir; Myers, Liquidated, ESPN; and PETA UK to use the scientific advancements to ban cruel experiments on beavers, rats, and other animals; and convinced the HSUS to support a ban on mink fur. We also helped convince the FDA to ban the use of animals in studies for the COVID-19 vaccine.

We're not just changing policies and procedures. We're changing hearts and minds. We're changing the world.

For the second year in a row, we've compiled an annual report called Groundbreaking Victories for Animals to show how PETA is leading the way to end cruelty to animals and animal suffering. Each victory is a victory for animals.
